Figure S9: Relative logarithmic sequence abundance plotted against logarithmic number of specimens in each morphologically identified taxon. The four primer combinations are indicated by color, with a linear regression line plotted it significant (p=<0.05). The values behind the primer names give the Adjusted R-squared value.